Highlights

The Best of Aarhus Private Shore Excursion with tour of Den Gamle By

Den Gamle By
60 min

The Old Town of Aarhus - also known as Den Gamle By - is a place to learn about history, traditions, and way of life in old-time Denmark. This open-air museum is located in central Aarhus Botanical Gardens and offers a great insight into town culture, rather than village traditions. Open in 1917, this museum consists of 75 historical buildings collected from 20 townships in all parts of the country.

Aarhus Cathedral
20 min

Aarhus Cathedral is dedicated to the patron saint of sailors, St. Clemens. The cathedral is located on the port side of the central square in the inner city. The church can seat around 1200 people. Aarhus Cathedral has many fresco paintings dating from 1470 to 1520.

ARoS Art Museum
20 min

The name ARoS refers to the Old Danish name of the city Aarhus, Áros, while the capitalized letters of the name hint at the Latin word for art, namely ars. It is the oldest public art museum in Denmark outside of Copenhagen. ARoS has a large art collection with works from the Golden Age until today.

Viking Museum
20 min

It is a small underground museum, located at the square of Skt. Clemens Market. It is located beneath the Nordea bank building and on the site of an archaeological excavation of the 1960s, 3 m (9.8 ft) below street level. The excavations revealed various Viking Age structures, items, and parts of a human skeleton. The museum provides information regarding the history of Viking Age Aarhus.
