

Red Light District

De Wallenor De Walletjes is the largest and best known red-light district in Amsterdam. It consists of a network of alleys containing approximately three hundred one-room cabins rented by prostitutes who offer their sexual services from behind a window or glass door, typically illuminated with red lights. These "kamers" are the most visible and typical kind of red light district sex work in Amsterdam and are a large tourist attraction.

	Old Church 10 min		The 800-year-old Oude Kerk ("old church") is Amsterdam's oldest building and oldest parish church, founded around 1213. It stands in De Wallen, now Amsterdam's main red-light district. The floor consists entirely of gravestones . The reason for this is that the church was built on a cemetery.
	New Church 10 min		The Nieuwe Kerk (New Church) isn't really brand new. It is a 15th-century church, located on Dam Square, next to the Royal Palace . It was built after the Old Church, that became too small for the growing city population, that explains the name. The Nieuwe Kerk is no longer used for church services but is used as an exhibition space.
	Canal district & 10 min		Amsterdam has more than one hundred kilometers of canals, about 90 islands and 1,500 bridges. The three main canals, Herengracht , Prinsengracht , and Keizersgracht , dug in the 17th century during the Dutch Golden Age, form concentric belts around the city, known as the Grachtengordel . The most exciting feature of the canals are the houseboats. In the beginning houseboats were a way to deal with the Amsterdam housing shortage, however, nowadays they are still in high demand.
	Zaanse Schans Windmill Village 30 min		The windmill village Zaanse Schans is an open air museum that features windmills, wooden houses, barns and shops dating back to the 18th and 19th century. It consists of seven museums: The Weavers House, the Cooperage, the Jisper House, Zaan Time Museum, Albert Heijn Museumshop, Bakery Museum.
